This is Hull

This is Hull is taking place on Tuesday 17th June and is for ALL 1st year students! If you didn't book a coach, one has been assigned to you. Please be aware that you must get on the coach you selected – there will be a register for each coach, so you won't be able to get on a different one.

If you don't have parental consent, you have been sent an email with a consent form on it. Please print this off, have your parent or guardian complete it and return it to reception as soon as possible. We will need to get verbal consent from parents/guardians if this is not done.

You will receive a food voucher on the day to spend at one of the many food outlets at the university!

Alivio & Esperança (Relief & Hope) – student fundraising campaign

Current Franklin student, Matias, has developed a project in his home country of Angola. The project is called Alivio & Esperança (Relief & Hope) and initially involved Matias when he was on home visits, using his own money to buy food and then his mum cooked 86 meals which they handed out to the community. Matias has continued with this project whilst he studies and works in the UK, he is now trying to promote the project so that he can make another donation for Christmas.

If you are able to donate at all, please click this link for the GoFundMe.

MASTERCLASSES

Real World Lecture: Can brands really create influence, or is it all luck?

Join the University of Law for an interactive session on social media marketing delivered by the University of Law Business School. Together we will dive into an examination of what makes a video go viral on platforms like TikTok or YouTube and evaluate the different types of social media influencers. Both areas fall within an ever-growing and ever-changing landscape of social media management, content creation, and brand building and therefore essential for businesses across countless of industries. We will discuss brand success stories but also highlight what are the consequences of strategies going wrong and the impact for those brands.

This will take place on Wednesday 18th June – click here for more information.

Discover Business Analytics: Turning Data into Insight

Why Are Cities Going Bankrupt? With Gresham College

In the late nineteenth century, Joseph Chamberlain transformed Birmingham with municipal enterprise and urban improvement. However, in the last few years, it has faced the equivalent of bankruptcy, alongside other large British cities.

This lecture asks, why have cities lost the confident civic pride of the Victorian era and now struggle to provide basic services from a limited financial base? Most importantly: what can be done to regenerate them?

A SPOTLIGHT

ON...

Insurance & Pensions

Feeling flush today? Awesome! But let's not forget about tomorrow. Start a career in insurance and pensions and help others plan for their future, too!

What is insurance and pensions?

Insurance is all about protecting your favourite stuff – like your car, home or even a celeb's iconic legs! If things go south, insurance helps you bounce back financially. Pensions are your retirement money goals. You and your employer stash some cash into a fund while you work, so when you retire, you can chill with regular income. Both insurance and pensions are about smart money management for the long haul. Insurance companies often do both, investing your pension cash and covering you when life throws curveballs.

What jobs can I do?

- Asset Manager: Asset managers are the money wizards. They invest your insurance premiums and pension funds to make that cash grow. Basically, they're all about making smart moves with your money.
- Claims Inspector: Claims inspectors are like detectives for insurance claims. They dig into accidents, check records, and make sure people aren't pulling a fast one when they cash in a claim.
- Insurance Broker: Insurance brokers are your go-to experts for finding the best insurance deals. They know how to read the small print and make sure you're getting the coverage you actually need.
- Pension Scheme Manager: Pension scheme managers handle the company's pension funds. They develop policies, advise on investments, and ensure there's enough cash when employees retire. They've got your back for the future!
- Underwriter: Underwriters are the gatekeepers of insurance applications. They decide who gets coverage based on the risk factor and set the terms of your policy. No risk, no reward!

What are the top skills?

- Attention-to-detail: Catching small mistakes to avoid bigger issues later.
- Communication: Explaining complex policies and negotiating deals clearly.
- Logical thinking: Analysing data and situations to find the best solutions.
- Numerical skills: Using data for smart financial decisions in areas like asset management.
- Problem-solving: Creative thinking to handle challenges such as claims or insurance plans.

How do I start a career in insurance and pensions?

- Can I do an apprenticeship? You can start with a level 2 apprenticeship, such as accounts or finance assistant, and progress to a level 6 financial services professional.
- Is uni an option? Yes! A degree in finance, economics, or business management is great for roles like actuary or asset manager.
- How can I stand out? Join challenges like the UK Maths Challenge or solve logic puzzles to boost your skills and make your CV stand out.

Leadership and Vulnerability in Criminal Justice Webinar with the University of Sunderland

Vulnerability in the criminal justice system has become a topic of concern in recent years. Whether we work with victims of crime, those accused of crime, or those who work on the frontline, we should be mindful of the factors that can influence an individual's engagement in the process. Policy plays a key role in assessing and mitigating vulnerability but can also work to exacerbate disadvantage for some. This is your opportunity to:

- Gain a deeper understanding of how vulnerability is conceptualised in justice and policing contexts
- Consider leadership strategies for addressing vulnerability ethically and effectively
 - Gain an insight into postgraduate study in leadership and justice
