Year 13s – register to vote by tomorrow!

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak made a surprise announcement to call a general election on 4th July 2024. A general election is when the public votes on who they want their MP to be — this is the person who represents your local area in Parliament. Most people who stand will represent a political party, and the Conservatives have been in power for 14 years. Even though this election is happening in just a few weeks' time, there is still time for you to register to vote!

Voting means that you can have an influence over issues which affect your local community – including resources allocated to educational providers and local job opportunities. You have until 11:59pm on 28th June 2024 to register to vote, and you must be 18 by the day of the election to vote.

Click here to register - if you're unsure of the process, watch this handy TikTok which outlines everything you need to know!

This is Hull: Uni Life

You should now have all booked your coaches for This is Hull. If not, one will be selected for you. You will soon receive an email confirming which coach you're on – please keep this safe.

We are still chasing some students for parental consent. If you don't have parental consent, you won't be able to go on the trip and work will be set for you at college – please collect a parental consent form from the CFPD office ASAP if you don't already have it. If you're unsure, please pop and see us.

Work Experience

If you are looking for work experience, you can view our existing opportunities here. If you are interested in any of the opportunities, please email nicola.lloyd-jones@franklin.ac.uk for further information on how to apply.

Careers Appointments

If you are unsure of your next steps or want some advice and guidance about courses, training, employment, or apprenticeships – please make a careers appointment.

If you need any help, please follow the guide on the next page, or email zofia.ciopcinski@franklin.ac.uk.

A SPOTLIGHT

ON...

Health & Safety

Being a health and safety professional is all about preventing injury and ill-health, so if you have a caring nature then this career could be for you. In the UK, employers must abide by the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 which is all about preventing harm in the workplace and potentially saving lives.

What jobs are available?

There is a large variety of health and safety-related jobs and can often vary in title and description as well as industry. Entry-level roles could be administrative or coordinator positions but a health and safety career could help you progress all the way to Director level. Roles include:

- Health and safety professionals - working to reduce accidents, injury and health problems in the workplace.
- QHSE professionals – some are also responsible for quality and environmental management.
- Building Safety Regulatory Lead – Determine the level of inspection the property requires, including site visits.
- Fire safety professionals – provide fire safety advice and establish an effective fire safety management system.
- You could choose to work 'in-house' for an organisation or, as you become more experienced, you could set up your own consultancy practice.

What Health & Safety Qualifications are available?

NEBOSH – the National Examination Board in Occupational Health and Safety - offers qualifications that are taken by many thousands of health and safety professionals – and those aspiring to be one – from across the world every year.

Qualifications range from introductory Awards, all the way up to Masters level, as well as specialist qualifications in topics such as construction, fire safety and workplace stress. Those who achieve NEBOSH's higher level qualifications are also invited to an annual Graduation celebration.

Qualifications include:

- Health and Safety at Work Award
  - Environmental Awareness at Work Qualification
- NEBOSH HSE Award in Managing Risks and Risk Assessment at Work
  - National General Certificate in Occupational Health and Safety
    - Health and Safety Management for Construction (UK)
      - Certificate in Fire Safety
    - NEBOSH HSE Certificate in Managing Stress at Work
- NEBOSH Level 6 National Diploma for Occupational Health and Safety Management Professionals
- NEBOSH Master of Research degrees, in partnership with the University of Hull

UNIVERSITY INFORMATION

Natural Sciences Spotlight with the University of Durham

The Natural Sciences degree offers more than the traditional biological and physical sciences. With 14 different single-degree programmes to choose from, you can tailor your education to your interests and career goals. You can weave together subjects that develop knowledge and skills that contribute to a major field of study. You will specialise in the following subjects while also incorporating other disciplines like Business, Economics, or Philosophy:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- Physics
- Computer Science
- Mathematics
- Psychology

By studying a multi-subject degree like Natural Sciences, you will experience in-depth learning from subject specialists. The employers of their placement degree students are often impressed by their year-out achievements compared with other placement students! Click here for more information.
